

‘Something out of Nothing’ from Dore Via Dumas

While getting a pedicure I saw the rubber thingys that were being used to keep my toes separated while the polish dried. Light bulb! I have been looking for something to make a railing for my Bavarian house. I bought some at the Dollar Tree. I painted them with espresso acrylic paint. Perfect. Just what I wanted.