

‘Something out of Nothing’ from Fern Rouleau

I made my “something” out of a clear egg carton. I cut a piece of the egg carton to make it smaller. Then I cut off a few of the middle egg bumps and I added spackle to it to make rocks and a lagoon. After the spackle, I painted the lagoon with several blues and white. I painted the rock hills with grays and brown and added flowers and grass. I made mermaids to swim in the water and sit on the hills, out of polymer clay and added the sign. I have attached pics of the egg carton and of the finished scene.
