Plate Rack and Plates in three scales

Designed by Susan Koelling, Cut by Peggy Fowler

There are three initial pieces to put together, the back, and left and right sides.

Glue one side to the outside edge of the back, making sure that it is flush at the bottom. Glue each shelf in at the 1" or 1/2" or the 1/4" depending on your scale. Start with the bottom shelf and work up the shelf. Set aside to dry. When dry, glue the second side in place making sure you are placing the glued shelves at the correct measurement.

Decorative trim may be placed on the edges of the shelves. Leave the trim just slightly higher than the edge of the shelf. It would act as a plate guard to keep the plate from sliding off the shelf if it is jarred in real life.

Plate Rack Kits are available from Fowler Laser Designs.

After the plate has been cut out, place it on a piece of foam or other soft material and, using a stylus, carefully shape the plates.

Proudly display your plates in your plate rack as a souvenir of the House-party in the Gazette 2013.

Plates

On page 73 are the cutout for your plates from NAME Houseparties. These plates were created by artisans for NAME as souvenirs or gifts to purchase over the years.

Before cutting the plates out, paint them with satin varnish, two coats are best.

To display your plates in the plate rack, carefully cut them from the page. I use a small cuticle scissors so the curve will be easier to cut. A punch could also be used.
